

```
from langdetect import detect
```

```
This method detects the language of a text review and returns if the language is english or not.
If the language is english the answer will be EN
Because cases with more than one language within the text are found, the methods handles the exceptions
by categorizing as not english all the cases where errors on defining text as english are found.
```

```
text=""
def language_checker(text):
    try:
        answer = detect(text)
        return answer
    except:
        return "notEN"
```